THE NEW ERA.
Newmarket, Friday April 3rd, 1857.

General Summary.

We are requested to announce, that Elder S. M. Pohler will preach in the Christian Church, Newmarket, on Sabbath next, at 11 o'clock a.m.

The Ladies' Bazaar in connection with the Wesleyan Methodist Church, Newmarket, will be held in the Union S. S. Room, on Wednesday next; the 8th inst.

The next sale at the Newmarket Auction Mart will take place on Monday the 13th inst. Parties having a few articles to dispose of, will find it to their advantage to send them to the Auction Mart between now and the 13th inst.

The Genesee Farmer, printed at Rochester, N. Y., by Mr. J. Harris, has been well received. It is filled with interesting information to the Farmer and Horticulturist, and we hope will be liberally sustained.

Mr. T. P. French, Crown Land Agent, in the Ottawa District, has favored us with a small pamphlet, containing information in reference to "Intending Settlers on the Ottawa and Upper Road and its vicinity." It is a valuable document to those interested.

It is with pleasure we direct attention to an advertisement elsewhere in our columns this day, from Messrs. Hood and Bramble, Ambrotype and Daguerreotype Portrait Artists, who have lately taken up their residence in this place. Specimen pictures have been examined by us, and judging from what we have seen, we can recommend our friends to give them a call.

Through an old friend who has lately visited the Township of Mariposa, we learn that Mr. James Taylor has just completed his New Grist Mill, capable of doing work equal to any Mill in the County. It contains four run of Stones and is capable of grinding and packing 100 barrels every 24 hours. The machinery was erected under the superintendence of Mr. McDonald, and the Miller employed is an individual well known in Newmarket—Mr. Joseph Wibridge. This Mill is situated within a short distance of Oakwood Post Office.

Rev. Mr. RAMSAY delivered an admirable address before the Newmarket Merchants' Institute, on Friday evening last, and the attendance was even greater than on any previous occasion. The audience was highly pleased and deeply interested. Mr. M. R. Hull, of Virginia, has been engaged for this evening. He comes highly recommended, and we desire that our good citizens may give him a general hearing. Subject—American Slavery. Mr. Hull will Lecture to-morrow evening on the subject of Temperance. Speaking of this gentleman, the Orleans American says—"the anecdotes and illustrations given by Mr. Hull are novel and original, and both his manner and matter are well calculated to amuse and instruct."

Newmarket Corporation.

The editing of a country journal, under the most favorable circumstances, is indeed a difficult task. In country villages, sectional feelings and self-interest often takes the place of duty and patriotism, and the man who raises his voice in demanding privileges and advantages for the mechanic and tradesman in proportion to the position they should occupy, is often denounced and his motives questioned. It is the prerogative, say, the duty of the editor of a local journal to advocate every new enterprise which, in his opinion, seems calculated to promote the prosperity or increase in importance the locality in which he resides; and should this not be done, his patrons would consider him wanting in the discharge of that duty. True, it is often difficult to draw the line of demarcation; and in the discharge of that duty he often comes in contact with the interests of his political friends; but if he actsuated by principle he will surely advocate what he considers right, however painful to him to sacrifice the kind friendship of those for whom he privately regards with the highest esteem.

We have been led to make the foregoing observations in consequence of ungenerous and uncharitable reflections being cast upon us, for the course we have taken in regard to the Village Corporation. And while these reflections have been made, not one of the parties with whom we have conversed, but admit that were it not for the danger and temptation to launch into debt, thereby increasing the taxation of the locality, they would not urge their objections. All are ready to admit, that with our License fund—tavern, store and Auctioneers, together with the present amount levied by the Township—more improvements might be made. This fact admitted, we consider the great point at issue has been attained; and the position assumed by us is sustained out of the mouths of witnesses who have taken considerable pains to ridicule us and the observations heretofore advanced. Notwithstanding all that has been said, however, corporation or no corporation, we feel conscious of having alleviated nothing but what is right in the matter; and although there may be individual hardships in the case, in the main, the locality will be benefited. We are, every probability, of these individual hardships being removed, and which no doubt would have been compromised long since had a proper spirit been manifested by the leaders of the opposition. The friends of the corporation have done nothing secretly, as has been averred; but we have openly published what that committee has done in the matter. This committee was appointed at a public meeting, and all knew the parties connected therewith at least they might have known, for they were put in public print.

Now, with all these facts before us, we feel that there is reason to complain of the uncharitable insinuations thrown out against the committee in general, and ourselves in particular. When argument is wanting, oftentimes insinuations take its place; and in this instance we are led to believe there is too much truth in the hypothesis.

Gravel Road.

The question is not unfrequently asked—What is being done towards securing the construction of the proposed Gravel Road? The winter has gone, spring is here, and the road not touched. So far as we are aware, very little has been done; and the reasons are obvious. In the first place, we require £1200 more stock to be taken before the work can be commenced with safety; and the people from whom the inhabitants of Newmarket had a right to expect assistance have failed to come forward and lend a helping hand.

We speak advisedly in making this statement;—for many farmers west of the marsh gave us to understand they would come forward and liberally sustain the project. Newmarket was to set the ball in motion; but the farmers along the line and at or near its termini were to keep it rolling until the work was completed. With this end in view, and relying upon the faithfulness of those interested, Newmarket subscribed very liberal—nearly every merchant, mechanic and tradesman taking more or less—and some of them to a very high amount. True, the farmers along the line out as far as the 5th Con. of King evinced a willing disposition; but to those beyond that point the road would be the most service, and they have been the most backward. The secret lies here: the inhabitants of West Gwillimbury and Tecumseh, at least a portion of the South part of these Townships, have vainly imagined that the people of King would take their Reserve roads and build roads for their special benefit. In this, they now find themselves mistaken, and hence, we are informed, are ready to assist in the proposed road to Newmarket.

That the Road from this place to Brownsville will prove most advantageous to both the farmer and merchant, we assert without fear of successful contradiction. For the reasons—that the distance to gain the Railroad is shorter, and there is always a better market for produce than ever will be established at King Station—on account of its nearness to the city. Few farmers desire to be away from their homes over night, and if they can dispose of their produce at Toronto prices—less the transhipment—near home, it will prove a decided advantage to them. Again, it will be an in calculable benefit to the merchant living anywhere near the termini to have his goods shipped direct to Newmarket and pass through the Customs House, rather than at Toronto. Some may say that the matter of a Wucheng port of entry at Newmarket is all, calculation; but to such we may observe, that during this week we have learned that Newmarket has been reported favorably of this. This is a fact known to most of the wholesale houses in Toronto.

Now, with all these advantages in view, will not the merchants of Lloydtown and Brownsville and the farming community surrounding these thriving places, assist in the construction of this work—calculated as it is to prove of so much importance and benefit, and connected as it is so intimately with the future greatness and prosperity of the country through which it passes?

We have heard the argument made use of that Newmarket, by the construction of this Road, desires to become rich at the expense of King. So far from this being the case, the Township will receive the largest benefit; and for the reason, that it will cost the people less to get their produce to market and they will therefore be benefited to the extent of the difference, in individual cases,—while as a Township, the land will be enhanced in value, and the roads through which the road passes raise more revenue towards the general funds.

We have hastily thrown these thoughts together in order to let those who take an interest in the matter know what has been done and why the work is not being proceeded with. We believe a meeting of the provisional committee will be held shortly and steps taken to secure an early commencement of the work, providing an amount anywhere near the estimated sum can be raised. It was unfortunate for the proposed Road, that the Council of King did not apply the proceeds of the Reserve money coming to them to the purpose for which the people for years petitioned, viz., for Schools. Had this been done, we have no hesitation in stating the ground for the Gravel Road from Newmarket to Brownsville or its vicinity would long since have been broken, and a large amount of labor expended during the winter on the deep cuts. The Road will, however, be constructed; it is only a work of time and great credit is due those gentlemen who have so nobly come forward and liberally subscribed to assist in the undertaking.

Deeds that are Deathless.

How TRUE REVERSES HUMAN JUDGEMENT.

Time tests the value of all human action and deeds that were thought glorious at the period of their enactment wear a different hue when looked back upon, apart from the false surroundings of immediate victory. It is but a few years, comparatively, since we were as sure that the Battle of Waterloo had settled the condition of Europe upon a permanent and imperishable basis; the "era of revolution," Lord Castlereagh declared to have gone by.

Dr. Fortier moved the second reading of a Bill to repeal the Act 16 Vict. chap. 30, and to make better provision for preventing infractions of the Usury Laws. (Laughter.)

Atty. Gen. Cartier requested the hon. member to withdraw his motion; in the first place because several members who would desire to take part in the discussion, were absent; and also, because the Legislative Council had decided this session that no change should be made in the Usury Laws.

On motion of Mr. Pley the Bill to amend the Grand Trunk Laws of Upper Canada, as they relate to the Incorporation of Villages, was read a second time, and referred to a Committee, consisting of Messrs. Clarke, Cutler, Benjamin, Hartman, Ferguson, and the other.

at of Washington's agreements, and even the British Queen finds it prudent to forget, in the Nephew's alliance the implacable hostility with which her guilty Grandfather pursued the Uncle.

These deeds of warriors and statesmen, so much noise about in their day, are of little significance when the true history of the world comes to be written. Fulton and Watt, and Morse, and Holloway—Jenings, the inventor of Vaccination, and Arkwright, patentee of Spinning-Jennies—it is to the lives of those, the future historians must turn when he endeavors to account for the vast physical and mental progress which characterized the first half of the Nineteenth Century. He must consult the life of Holloway in particular; for nowhere else can he find so perfect a type of that combination of astuteness and erudition which forms the distinctive development of our modern intellect. The wise and learned of former ages were omnipotent in the academy, but helpless as new-born babes in the rough conflict with the world; they confined the treasures of their genius to some half score or two of credulous disciples; but for the great masses of the people—the profanum vulgus as they call them—they cherished a profound contempt and hatred.

What a pleasing contrast to this exclusive folly does the course of Professor Holloway afford! How much wiser, as the event has proved, to trust in working with confidence, and rather seek to elevate them to his own intellectual and scientific platform, than to look down upon them from an envied and unapproachable height! He has now made friends of the world—all races, creeds and tongues of man; he is looked up to by millions from all corners of the earth as the physical redeemer who has disentangled them, by his universal remedies, from the bondage of disease. The world has not a language in which the broad principles of his Pathology have not been enunciated; nor has the earth a race of human beings so utterly barbarian as to be ungrateful for the benefits his philanthropy has brought home to them. Indeed, ingratitude is by no means a barbarian vice. We find more of it among the polished circles of society than amid the natural rudeness of a savage camp. We could, at this very moment, lay our hands upon hundreds who owe their very lives to the use of Holloway's Pills and Ointment; and yet, because they think it "more the thing" to have a "family physician," you could not offer them a worse insult than an intimation of who it is that really has cured them!

What a redemption of humanity from the pangs of physical anguish, by Holloway—in the telegraphic annihilation of distance, by Morse—in the labor-saving machinery of Arkwright and the independence we enjoy over wind and tide, through the dauntless exertions of Fulton, the future his own of our race will find the deathless deeds which are to elate the tributary of his pen, and will exalt, as he records the mighty miracles which they performed—"Ah, there were giants in those days!"

Mr. Masson moved the addition of a clause to the Bill, providing that no person shall hold a seat in the Legislature unless lawfully seized of the Colonial Bank of Canada.

Mr. Hartman introduced a Bill, to authorize the Trustees of the Presbyterian Society of Hamilton, to sell and convey certain Church Property to him.

The House rose at twenty minutes past eleven.

TUESDAY, March 31, 1857.

The Speaker having taken the chair, the routine business was disposed of.

INDEPENDENCE OF PARLIAMENT.

Mr. Solicitor General Smith's bill, further to secure the Independence of Parliament, was read a third time; and no motion that it do pass.

Mr. Masson moved the addition of a clause to the Bill, providing that no person shall hold a seat in the Legislature unless lawfully seized of the Colonial Bank of Canada.

The suggestion was accepted, and the House agreed that, when it adjourns on Thursday night it do stand adjourned till the 15th of April.

Hon. Mr. Cameron moved that the following Resolutions on the subject of the Assessment Laws of Upper Canada be referred to Committee of the Whole:

1. No income under one hundred pounds per annum shall be assessable.

2. The scale of taxation of personal property shall be on an increasing ratio of £100 on all sums under £1,000, of £200 on all sums between £1,000 and £2,000, of £250 on all sums between £2,000 and £3,000, and of £300 on all sums above £3,000.

3. Any person deriving income from any source whatever, not specially exempted from taxation, exceeding £100 per annum, shall be assessed for the amount derived from such income during the year then last passed, and such last year's income shall be held to be his net personal property for the purpose of such assessment.

We find more of it among the polished circles of society than amid the natural rudeness of a savage camp. We could, at this very moment, lay our hands upon hundreds who owe their very lives to the use of Holloway's Pills and Ointment; and yet, because they think it "more the thing" to have a "family physician," you could not offer them a worse insult than an intimation of who it is that really has cured them!

Mr. Masson moved the addition of a clause to the Bill, providing that no person shall hold a seat in the Legislature unless lawfully seized of the Colonial Bank of Canada.

Mr. Hartman moved the addition of a clause to the Bill, for the better establishment of an Atlantic Postal Line.

Mr. Holton thought there was a necessity for some explanation in regard to this Bill, as it authorizes the advancing of £50,000 for the purposes of the Bill, while it had a previous Bill which authorized the advancing of £24,000.

Modern Definitions
Hard times.—Sick of old grandmoths and reading the President's Message.

Law.—What would you have particularly connected with shovel and tongs.

Progress of time.—A pillar going through the land with wooden blocks.

Politicism.—A fellow that calls all his knowledge from borrowed newspapers.

Riot.—A disturbance of a crowd of people fast asleep.

Fraud.—One that takes your money and then turns you out of doors.

Patriot.—A man who has neither property nor reputation to lose.

Credit.—A mere provision of which constables get a living.

Benevolence.—To take a dollar out of one's pocket and put it into the other.

Honesty.—Absolute; a term formerly used in the case of a man who had paid for his newspaper and the coat on his back.

Independence.—Owing fifty thousand dollars which you never intend to pay.

Lonely Woman.—An article manufactured by millions.

Who want but little here below?

And wear that little for a show.

Dandy.—A THING in pantaloons, with a body and two arms, a head without brains, tight boots, a cane, a wide handkerchief, two brooches, and a ring on his little finger.

Coquette.—A young lady with more beauty than sense, more accomplishments than learning, more pretensions of person than graces of mind, more abominations than virtues, more faults than wise men for attendants;

Why are bookkeepers like chickens? Because they have to scratch for a living.

TEXTER FORETHOUGHT.—Devoid wife—“Oh, what a beautiful monument! Would you like to have such a one as that dear?”

A GOOD RYER.—A lady was asked the other day, why she chose to live a single life, and simply replied, “Because it is cheaper to support a husband.”

A country contemporary, puffs the squire, and his soap, concluding fast followings: “The manufacture of the best soap ever used for cleaning a dirty man's face.” We have tried it, therefore we know.

“Henry, my love, I wish you would stop that book and talk with me. I feel so dull.” A long silence, and no reply. “Oh, Henry, it's for a slyer.” “Is it? Well don't talk, dear; you might wake it.”

PANTECHNETHECA. CIRCULAR.

THE subscriber begs to inform the Citizens of Toronto and Public generally, that he has formed a Correspondence with Mr. J. Charlesworth, in the Dry Goods, Clothing and General Business, and has made out, from Mr. Charlesworth's acquaintance with the Canadian Trade, and his own experience and connection in Great Britain, he will be enabled to offer Inducements hitherto unknown in Canada.

J. B. KYNDER.

PANTECHNETHECA. CIRCULAR.

THE subscriber general for this patronage, laboriously affected him for the past five years, begs respectfully to inform his customers and the public generally, that he has Disposed of the former Stock and Interest in his business, and has pleasure in informing them that he has entered into a Partnership with Mr. J. B. KYNDER, recently from England, where he has been engaged with some of the first class Dealers in Cloth and Textile Goods, and feels confident, that his connection with his former business, will be preferable to serve his former patrons and friends, by offering such inducements that no one will be induced to trade.

JOHN CHARLESWORTH.

PANTECHNETHECA.

KYNDER & CHARLESWORTH, RESPECTFULLY subscribe to the Citizens of Toronto and Public generally, that they have formed a part of those large and experienced Principals (for the most part alone in Canada) lately erected by Mr. Thomas Hutchins, and known as the PANTECHNETHECA.

KYNDER & CHARLESWORTH, HAVING had their premises fitted up in a style becoming the times, are preparing an extensive business on the principle of Small Profits and Large Sales. No additional expense being incurred in the management all parties being actively employed during business hours, and this secured to a covering public interest with prompt support and encouragement.

KYNDER & CHARLESWORTH, WOULD, respectfully invite the attention of the Ladies, Citizens, and public generally to their large stock of staple and dry goods, Military, clothing, boots, and shoes, hats, caps, &c., all of a new selection, purchased for the best terms in the British, Foreign, and American Markets.

The opening of this department will be replaced with the best.

The Milliner and Drapery Department, will be supplied by two prominent young ladies, who have had personal experience in the most fashionable houses in London and New York. A choice and good selection may be expected.

The opening of this department will be announced in the daily papers.

In the outfitting department will be found the largest and most complete assortment of ever offered in Canada, in ornate, understated, pants, and vests.

Ready Made Clothing

Hats and caps in great variety.

Gentlemen's Hats and shoes.

The Tailoring department will be superintended by a First Class Master, and customers may rely upon having their orders supplied to their satisfaction, both at regular price and style.

Our business connections in Britain enable us to assume a superior position in many of our Canadian Friends in the trades; therefore the public may depend upon making their purchases from 10 to 15 per cent. lower than any other house in the city.

PANTECHNETHECA.

PARTICULAR attention will be paid to the Wholesale Department, a reserve stock being kept to meet the demands of the retail business, enabling K. & C. to supply small dealers with length to cut, at prices lower than any other wholesale houses sell to country buyers. Our retail department, reducing the current expenses, warrants our supplying the trade at the lowest and best terms.

Country buyers and dealers will do well to give us a call.

NO SECOND PRICE.

PANTECHNETHECA to be Opened on TUESDAY, Oct. 7, at 9 A.M.

No. 32 & 34, King Street East, Toronto.
